Giza Pyramids, Quad Bike and Camel Ride Day Tour from Alexandria

For quad biking and camel rides, you will be transferred to Cairo by us, including round-trip transfers. They are the destination of travellers, tourists, and the 'magnet' of visitors, whose plans always include being the hero of a souvenir photo with the pyramid in the background, or another with 'kissing the Sphinx' as the 'seal' of their visit to Egypt.

Learn from our guide how these pyramids were built. It is also a source of speculation and debate, as many researchers believe that some kind of inclined engineering system was used to move the blocks into place during construction. The majority of the white limestone that coated the pyramids when they were finished has now been gone.

Our trip will also give you the opportunity to visit the Valley Temple, which is located next to the Sphinx, and is the only one of the ancient state temples that is still standing and complete, and visitors when visiting the pyramids can tour the temple and see its gate, which is still intact. As well as visiting Cheops and his neighbours Khafre and Menkaure, Tamal the Sphinx and a number of smaller tombs, you can etch an unforgettable journey into your memory, peeking into a glimpse of a distant history whose construction remains a mystery to this day.

You will even get the opportunity to see authentic Bedouins and discover more about their intriguing desert lifestyle. You will then get the opportunity to ride a camel. Our driver will return you to your Alexandria hotel at the conclusion of the day. Remember to inquire about more things to do in Cairo.
