Cairo

Egypt

Enjoy the treasure that Coptic Cairo holds in its alleys and streets. Don't pass up the chance to see Coptic Cairo, which is a section of Old Cairo and is well-known for its impressive architecture, historic Coptic churches, and other religious monuments that are significant to Egypt's past.

Babylon Fortress

The fort is strategically located in Old Cairo in the Fustat neighborhood, next to the Coptic Museum. The location was chosen due to its military immunity and its control of the desert road from the east, as it is close to the Nile and controls the road leading to Upper and Lower Egypt, and was considered a shield to protect against any protest or revolt.

The Hanging Church

It has a rare architectural style that makes it one of the most beautiful churches in the Middle East and was the first seat of the Patriarchs in Cairo.

Coptic Museum

The Coptic Museum is located within the confines of the Roman Fort Babylon, one of the most famous and largest surviving monuments of the Roman Empire in Egypt, near the group of ancient Egyptian churches (the Church of Abu Sarja, the Church of Our Lady of the Assumption, and the Jewish Temple).

The list of landmarks Seaborn spotted in Coptic Cairo goes on to include the following:

The Church of Our Lady in Babylon al-Daraj
The Church of the Virgin Mary in the Rum neighbourhood
Abu Sevin Church
St Barbara's Church
St George's Church

Half-Day Tour to Coptic Cairo and Coptic Museum

You may take a half-day trip to Coptic Cairo and the Coptic Museum. You will be driven in the morning from the front of your Cairo or Giza hotel to the Coptic Cairo monuments, including:

The Coptic Museum

This museum was founded by the Coptic scholar Markus Smika, who collected a collection of rare Coptic antiquities for many years since 1898, and contributed to collecting donations to establish the museum, and in 1902 Markus was able to obtain the approval of Patriarch Cyril V to obtain land to build a museum that includes Coptic antiquities next to the Hanging Church.

Hanging Church

It is one of the oldest surviving churches in Egypt; the smaller church belongs to the third or fourth century AD, while the larger church dates back to the sixth century AD. The Hanging Church continued to serve as the official seat of the papal see until the reign of Pope Yohannes VIII, Patriarch 80 (1300-1320), with the exception of short periods when some popes used the Abi Sevin Church in Old Cairo as an alternative resting place.

Abu Serga Church

It was an important stop on the Holy Family's journey to Egypt, also known as the Church of the Cave; historians confirm that it is the oldest church in ancient Egypt and even in all of Cairo.

Ben Ezra's Jewish Temple

The Ben Ezra Synagogue is one of the most important and oldest synagogues in Egypt, and about the similarity of the architectural layout of the temple with churches, I attribute the reason for this to the fact that it was originally a church that was converted into a synagogue, as it is a rectangular area with facades devoid of decorations, while the interior follows the basilica style, where it is divided by two courtyards into three parallel hallways, the middle of which is the widest, and in the middle hallway there are two platforms, the first is known as the Atlas of the Miracle, while the second is the prayer platform (bima).

Our representative will take you back to your Cairo hotel after your Coptic Cairo Tour is over.
